ABOUT IN RADIANCE

In Radiance is a vibrant group of five flutists who strive to bring an infinite variety of musical genres to life through their arrangements and performances of new music for their non-traditional chamber group. They perform on piccolo, concert, alto, and bass flutes, and can also be found beatboxing! In Radiance helps create new repertoire for their unique instrumentation through commissions and often do many arrangements themselves. They have been performing together since 2014 and are at home in every kind of venue, from Pickman Hall in Cambridge, MA to intimate house concerts with GroupMuse.

As certified Teaching Artists, they have extensive experience giving experiential performance-based workshops that reach out to the audience and bring them into the creative process. From senior centers to concert halls, they enjoy the connections that these kinds of performances provide. In Radiance seeks to redefine the traditional concert experience by engaging their audiences and sharing the laughter and joy they feel in rehearsals and performances with everyone.

In Radiance is being sponsored by the Friends of Flutes Foundation.
